Strengthen exposure to open access journals

強化對OA 開放獲取期刊的支持

- Business Source includes rigorous curation and indexing of open access (OA) journals, which has resulted in a growing collection of 1,507 active global OA journals
- Once validated and certified for inclusion, these OA journals are treated with high-quality subject indexing and sophisticated, precise/accurate full-text linking
- EBSCOhost databases and EBSCO Discovery Service generate a lot more referrals for DOAJ than any other online platform

"Not only does EBSCO support [the Directory of Open Access Journals] with a generous financial donation every year, their EBSCO Discovery Service and EBSCOhost platforms generate a lot more referrals to DOAJ than any other online platform. EBSCO's strong support of both open access and open source make them unique among library vendors worldwide."

EconLit Search Hints

IMPORTANT: Institutional subscribers should contact their information service provider for help with proprietary search interface questions or support.

This brief tutorial explains how to refine your search results using EconLit's search tools.

1. Get started with a "New" search using subject terms or keywords.
2. This search results page will display your search results using field information to narrow the search.

Each EconLit record includes the following fields:

ISSN, author, author affiliation, series, publication information, publication year, document type, ISSN or ISBN, keywords, subject classifications, related persons and geographic descriptors.

AUTHOR

For most types of documents in EconLit, the author field is straightforward. In book reviews, the author field contains the name of the reviewer. In books, authors or editors appear in the author field. Editors' names are followed by the abbreviation "ed" or "eds".

AUTHOR AFFILIATION

Collective review articles, journal articles, and working papers contain an author affiliation field. The book author's affiliation can be found below the author field. Thus, to find your search to books published authors authors from a given institution, the institution should be used as a filter in the advanced field. Author affiliations may use abbreviations.

title, author, author affiliation, source, publication information, publication year, document type, ISSN or ISBN, keywords, subject classifications, named persons and geographic descriptors.

AUTHOR

For most types of documents in EconLit, the author field is straightforward. In book reviews, the author field contains the name of the reviewer. In books, authors or editors appear in the author field. Editors' names are followed by the abbreviation "ed." or "eds."

AUTHOR AFFILIATION

Collective volume articles, journal articles, and working papers contain an author affiliation field. The book author's affiliations are listed at the end of the abstract for the book. Thus, to limit your search to books published by authors from a given institution, the institution should be used as a limiter in the abstract field. Author affiliations may use abbreviations

JEL Classification System / EconLit Subject Descriptors

The JEL classification system was developed for use in the Journal of Economic Literature (JEL), and is a standard method of classifying scholarly literature in the field of economics. The system is used to classify articles, dissertations, books, book reviews, and working papers in EconLit, and in many other applications. For descriptions and examples, see the JEL Codes Guide.

Usage

Quotation Marks

Define your search

1. Define your search: Using keywords.
2. Use helpful database tools:
 - Basic or advanced search.
 - Boolean operators (AND, OR, NOT.)
 - “Full text” and “peer reviewed” options.
 - Narrowing down results.
3. Choose databases: Using multiple databases at once.
4. Use the citation tool (disclaimer = corrections might be needed!)

Boolean Operators

Notion

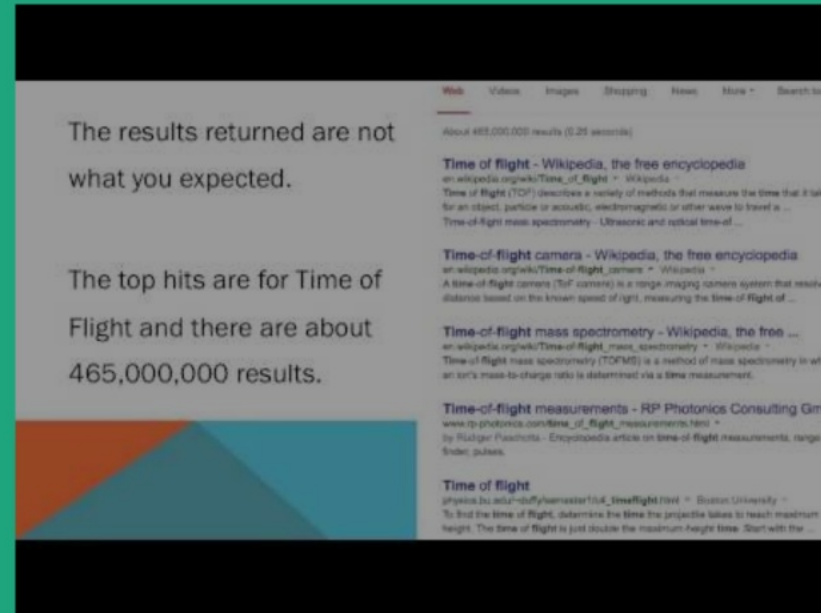

Define your search

- Prepare a list of keywords for your topic:
 - Ex: fast food, obesity, overweight, junk food, diet, children, ...
- Find out the preferred terms for this database (hint: “Subjects”):
 - Ex: “Convenience foods” “fast food restaurants” “food habits”
- Use quotation marks for multi-word terms:
 - Ex: “fast food addiction” “consumer attitudes”

Integrated mRNA and miRNA Transcriptome Analysis Suggests a Regulatory Network for UV-B-Controlled Terpenoid Synthesis in Fragrant Woodfern (Dryopteris fragrans).

Fragrant woodfern (Dryopteris fragrans) is a medicinal plant rich in terpenoids. Ultraviolet-B (UV-B) light could increase concentration of terpenoids. The aim of this study was to analyze how UV-B regulates the terpenoid synthesis of the ...
